Sri Basavaraj Somappa Bommai is an Indian politician and engineer who is the current and the 23rd Chief Minister of Karnataka. On 6th September, we conducted a meeting with the Honourable CM, Sri Basavaraj Bommai, presenting to him the initiative by IIMSAM that has been approved to start proof of concept in the district of Chikkaballapur. We conveyed to him about the importance of micro algae substitute food in improving the quality of nutrition in public health and the significance of the program in achieving the goals of United Nations Sustainable Development Goals 2020-30. Sri S R Viswanath (MLA), Sri Manjunath Prasad (Principal Secretary) and V Somanna (Minister of Housing and Infrastructure Development) were also present in the meeting.

We invited the CM, Sri Basavaraj Bommai to launch the event here in Bangalore. Sri Basavaraj Bommai briefed us about the initiatives taken up by the Government in order to tackle the issues of malnutrition, hunger and poverty amidst the covid-19 pandemic. Acknowledging the importance of our initiative, he gladly obliged to launch the event and extended his full support in fighting against malnutrition with the aim of making Karnataka a malnutrition free zone by the combined efforts of all.
